"Built Like a Skyscraper"

An average drawer load weighs fifty pounds. This Shaw-Walker drawer is holding about ten times that weight. And holds it easily—without sagging. (From actual photograph.)

SHAW-WALKER STEEL LETTER FILES

EVERY time you pull open a Shaw-Walker drawer, two "Voluntary Slides" run out to support it. That's why capacity-loaded drawers "coast" smoothly, noiselessly. They're non-rebounding, too.

Shaw-Walkers are "Built Like a Skyscraper", with a framework of skyscraper steel. Electric-welded into one solid piece. No nuts—bolts—rivets—rods—screws.

We believe you'll say Shaw-Walkers are the best files ever made. If, after trying a Shaw-Walker, you don't think so—your money back—quick. Order one by 'phone.

WOOD FILES

Shaw-Walker also manufactures a complete line of filing cabinets in wood; as well as supplies for all files.

FARMERS INDORSE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The farmers' position endorsing the league of nations was presented to the President yesterday afternoon when Mr. Wilson met a delegation representing various organizations at the White House. A memorandum was presented submitting the farmers' program on national and international reconstruction, with particular reference to the unqualified endorsement of a league of nations by the leading farm organizations, together with recommendations for amendments to the constitution of the league of nations.

The program was adopted at the farmers' national conference on reconstruction held here January 5 and 6. The memorandum urges the President to present the program to the peace conference, and states that the farmers' organizations are gratified to see that the proposed constitution of the league "expresses in so large a measure the plan for such a league embodied in our international program."

Organizations Represented.

The organizations represented were: The American Society of Equity, by J. N. Tittmore (president), J. Weller Long (secretary-treasurer), E. L. McGowan (chairman legislative committee) and W. M. BUSINESS MEN RAISE MONEY FOR NEAR EAST

Final Report to Be Made Saturday on Committee's Work Here in Relief Campaign.

When the final report of the business men's committee for the Washington campaign for American relief in the near east is made next Saturday a large total of contributions from business houses and banking institutions is expected. Rudolph Jose, chairman of the committee, announced that his committee members have been working energetically during the past two weeks soliciting subscriptions from business men of the city, and, although he would not announce his total today, it was said that a large total had been collected by this important committee.

Expect Good Increase.

As the campaign now stands, less than 25 per cent of the $150,000 asked of Washington has been raised, but totals from the government departments and from the business men's committee, not yet reported, are expected to swell considerably this total. Some of the members of the executive committee, holding out that Washington's quota is too high and that many of the city's wealthy men were in the city on war work in the expectation that they might contribute large sums to the fund. Most of these men have left the city by this time, and their contributions cannot be credited to Washington.

Haik Gudean, Armenian violinist, was received enthusiastically yesterday by the wounded men at Walter Reed Hospital, when he played before them in the Red Cross auditorium at the hospital, and explained the purpose of the present drive. Mr. Gudean was introduced by Mrs. Newton D. Baker. He played today at noon at the Washington Women's Club.

Meeting at Liberty Hut.

Gudean will appear in free public concert at a mass meeting at Liberty Hut tomorrow night for the fund, and Mrs. Newton D. Baker will sing. The Marine Band will play. Gen. Mesrop Azemkethian, a native Armenian army commander, will be the principal speaker, and Henry B. F. Macfarland will preside.

Patrons will be prominent Washington society women organized into a committee by Mrs. Cabot Stevens of Benton, who is spending the winter in Washington.

Amariyis Exhibit Limited.

The display of amariyis plants in the Department of Agriculture greenhouses, at 14th and B streets northwest, will be continued today and tomorrow. Weather conditions have kept the flowers in such good condition that it has been found possible to extend the time of the show. A record kept at the greenhouses shows that thousands have visited the exhibit since its opening several days ago. There are on display 230 of the plants, each having several blooms. The plants are seedlings developed from crosses by the horticulturists of the department.

WALLACE GRANDCHILD CANNOT GO ABROAD NOW

Rule of Army Also Bars Wife of Ambassador's Son Because He Is an Officer in Service.

Another tragedy of war, which, however, time and peace will heal, lies in the fact that Capt. Melville W. Fuller Wallace, son of Hugh C. Wallace, ambassador to France, cannot greet his infant-month-old daughter Patricia, until after he has ceased serving with the United States Army in Europe.

The inflexible rule of the government that woman relatives of men serving with the Army abroad cannot join such relatives covers the situation of Mrs. Melville Wallace, formerly Miss Ruth Patterson, daughter of the late Raymond Patterson, and the tiny Patricia, and neither the baby, because she could not, and the mother, because she would not—will seek to become an exception to the rule which holds so many other fathers and newborn offspring apart.

Mrs. Wallace, wife of the ambassador, is ready to accompany her husband to Paris, taking with her Miss Sallie Beecher, their niece, who makes her home with them. Mrs. Melville Wallace and little Miss Patricia are also with them, the latter ruling the household with the strength of her infant hands.

"Mrs. Melville Wallace has had no idea of accompanying us," said Mrs. Ruth C. Wallace, sister-in-law. "The rule of the government forbids her joining my son, and, of course, she would not think of trying to have an exception made in her case to a rule which affects so many officers and men in the Army—it would not be just or right. Of course it is a terrible disappointment," she added.

And so when little Miss Patricia learns the comfort of her father's arms there will be no cloud of a broken rule to mar the perfection of the moment for him nor for the mother, nor to dim the joy in non-understanding but laughing eyes of the child.

L. B. developed the card record system—

Library Bureau originated the card system and made it practical.

Millions of cards are used annually by the United States Government. Business houses, banks and insurance companies use cards for perhaps two-thirds of their records.

The development of the card system is but one chapter in the history of the world's largest manufacturer of card record and filing equipment. Back of it all is an IDEA—perfection in card and filing methods.

In addition to the card system, L. B. also originated vertical filing, the card record desk, and the L. B. Automatic index—the quickest, most accurate and most practical system of filing and un-filing the business world has ever known.

For forty-three years Library Bureau has been constantly meeting every imaginable card and filing problem, from a simple card index to the handling of correspondence aggregating millions of letters a year.

This experience has always been valuable to L. B. customers; it is especially valuable in these days of business reconstruction.
